My dear Sir:

Word has recently come to us that you have recently issued a very handsome bronze medal for the anniversary of Benjamin Franklin and The Saturday Evening Post, and as this Society - a national institution - has a public museum we should like very much to have a specimen of the medal for our cabinet. I trust you may see your way clear to allow us to secure one.

Very truly yours,

Curator

My dear Mr. Wood:

Our general supply of the Franklin medallions,
of which you write, is unfortunately entirely exhausted.

I personally reserved a few of them for some special purpose, and am glad to send one of these to the Society.
